

NO RELIEF IS PROMISED FROM THE HEAT WAVE

Nearly Every Ohio City Had a Temperature of at Least 100 Degrees

GREAT SUFFERING IN EVERY SECTION OF STATE REPORTED

Thermometer Registered 107 at Cleveland Yesterday Afternoon

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Aug. 7.—With weather forecasts predicting little or no change in temperature for tomorrow, Ohio today began its struggle through the third day of excessive heat.

Reports from every section of the state continue to bring the toll of heat prostrations, even higher. Scarcely an Ohio city yesterday had a temperature under 100 degrees for the greatest part of the day. Street level temperatures generally were several degrees above the hundred mark while official temperatures recorded many feet above street-level in many instances exceeded the 100 degree mark.

A stiff breeze which rose during the early hours of this morning added materially in people getting some relief, but the suffering from every section during the night is reported to have been great.

An ice shortage in the city of Lima added greatly to the suffering there. More than 1500 people are reported to have clamored for ice at the local plants throughout the night. The maximum street level heat was reported from Cleveland where the thermometer registered 107 degrees at 7 o'clock last evening.

Slight relief from the intensive heat was experienced in the state capital today through the prevalence of a slight breeze of six miles an hour from the northwest, though the official temperature continued about on a parallel with yesterday. The official temperature at noon was 95 degrees, which was one degree under the noon reading of yesterday.

Many heat prostrations were reported. The new government warehouse, east of the city, reported about two dozen workmen overcome by the heat, but all were revived after first-aid treatment. Factories reported numerous fainting cases. Yes—(Continued on Page 2, Col. 2.)

CLAIM KERENSKY MINISTER KILLED WHILE AT POLTAVA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Aug. 7.—(Havas Agency)—M. I. Terestchenko, minister for foreign affairs in the cabinet of Premier Kerensky, has been assassinated at Poltava, according to an announcement made by the Hamburg Fremdenblatt and reprinted by Paris newspapers. The identity of his assassins, it is declared, is not known.

A report received in London, July 6, said Terestchenko had arrived at Bergen, Norway, from Russia, and would go to Paris to join Premier Kerensky. Since then there have been no reports concerning his whereabouts. It is possible he may have gone back to Russia through the Ukraine. Poltava is in the eastern Ukraine, southeast of Kiev.

Terestchenko, a wealthy young man of good family, joined the Kerensky cabinet early in 1917, and was foreign minister from May until November. On the overthrow of Kerensky he was arrested by the Bolsheviks and imprisoned, being released in March of this year.

SUBMARINE SINKS SHOALS LIGHTSHIP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Aug. 7.—The Diamond Shoals lightship, off Cape Hatteras, N. C., was shelled and sunk by an enemy submarine late yesterday, the navy department was today informed. The crew, who took to their boats, have reached shore safely.

The submarine came within a half mile of shore, according to the brief report which reached the navy department.

The Diamond Shoals light station is one of the most famous guides to navigation in the world and has been the subject of many a story in verse and prose. Such vessels usually are manned by gray-beards and are of such a type as to be utterly helpless in the face of an enemy attack.

The attacking submarine probably was the one that sank the American tank steamer, O. P. Jennings, 100 miles off the Virginia coast several weeks ago. Her exploit in showing herself above water within a half mile of the Carolina coast in an important shipping lane, where innumerable patrol boats are supposed to be plying is one of the most daring recorded since the German raiders first made their appearance on this side of the Atlantic.

BELIEVE HUNS WILL STRIKE ON NORTH FRONT

Paris, Aug. 7.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff in order to maintain their prestige and stimulate the depressed morale at home usually well-informed observers here insist, intend to strike a blow against the British front in conjunction with the German fleet. An order issued by the new chief of the German admiralty staff, Admiral Scheer, is said to express the wish of the fleet to attack the British naval forces.

Meanwhile the lull on the Rheims-Soissons front continues. The Germans it is believed here are putting their heavy artillery in place and digging themselves in with the intention of defending the positions between the Vesle and the Aisne as long as possible. The allies have only light forces north of the Vesle and are obliged to await their heavy guns before pressing the offensive if the allied commanders judge it opportune to push home an attack on that sector.

Marcel Hutin, in the Echo de Paris, says there is no hurry and declares the allies have proof that the Germans are suffering seriously from the lack of effectives. Some observers believe that the Germans are regrouping their divisions in preparation for a broad defensive rather than an early offensive.

Plan To Raise Army of 5,000,000 Men As Soon As Possible is War Program

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Aug. 7.—In urging enactment of the administration man power bill extending draft ages to from 18 to 45 years General March told the senate military committee today that the war department plans an army of approximately 5,000,000 men to be raised as soon as possible.

While realizing the importance of the measure, General March said he did not believe it necessary to recall congress before the present recess plan expires on August 24, providing the bill could be reported at that time.

General March said the shipment of men overseas would be continued according to the program now in effect, for the present.

Questioned by Senators regarding the apparent "change of front" of the war department in its war program General March told of the government's decision in accord with the Paris conference.

For the new program Secretary Baker and other officials concluded that there must be an extension of the draft ages.

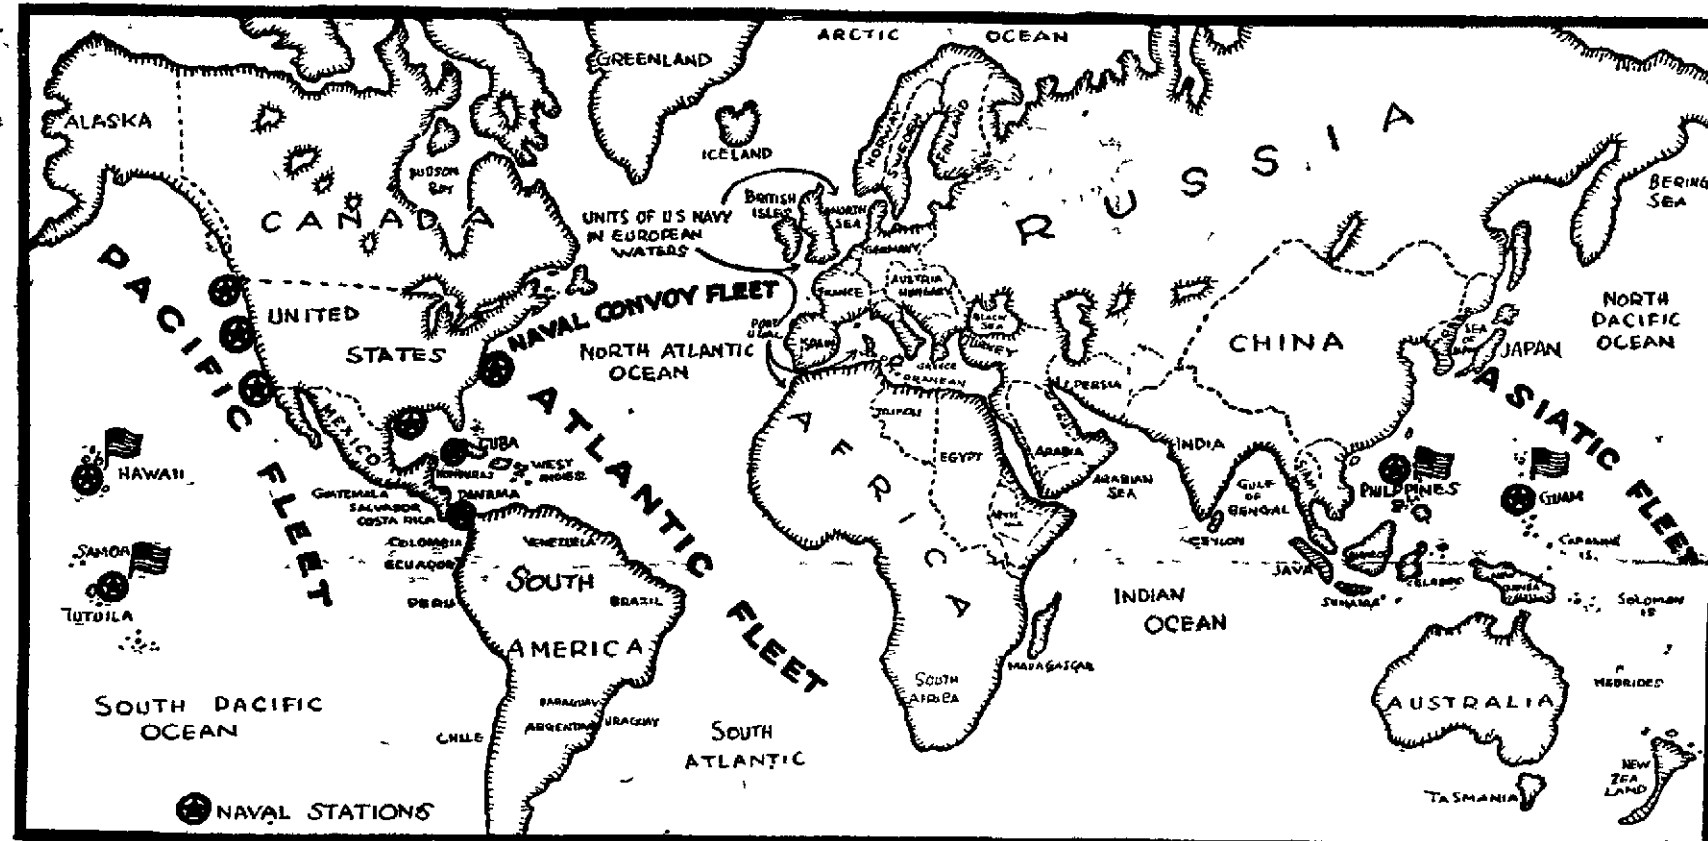

While about 3,000,000 are now under arms, army officials think there should be approximately 5,000,000 men at home and in France in order not to disrupt the present draft system and to avoid calling men who had been given exemption extension of the draft ages is necessary.

From General March's testimony and other information received the committee has gained the impression that while all men between the ages of 18 and 45 would be subject to military duty under the new law, it is proposed that those between 18 and 20 years old shall be kept in this country until the last.

The prohibition controversy may hold up consideration of the draft bill. Under the unanimous consent agreement for vacation recesses proposed war time prohibition is to be taken up when the senate reconvenes with a final vote on August 26. This can only be set aside by unanimous consent and Senator Shepard of Texas, prohibition leader in the senate expressed the opinion today that unanimous consent agreement could not be obtained unless the draft bill can be taken up and disposed of with practically no debate.

AMERICAN PATROLS CROSS THE VESLE UNDER ENEMY FIRE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Aug. 7.—How American patrols crossed the Vesle after the occupation of Fismes is told in a dispatch from a correspondent of the Daily Mail on the American front, dated Monday:

"The Germans have fortified a number of positions north of the Vesle and close to Fismes," he says. "Two of their divisions are in the line here and one of them is believed to be a strong one from the reserves of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria."

"Early this morning American parties waded the Vesle west of Fismes where it flows at a good pace. They were under machine-gun fire from the lower slopes along the river and artillery fire from heights more to the rear. From the north side the Americans pushed on while their artillery shelled the German positions intensely. East of Fismes, American mounted patrols crossed the river today."

"At the taking of Fismes yesterday the Germans fought desperately in the streets for some time, but finally broke and ran. American machine guns punishing them severely as they fled down the slopes to the Vesle. German snipers and machine gunners are still in houses in Fismes although the Americans have been there for 24 hours."

"Increasing resistance is expected as we approach the enemy's main line of defense. Meanwhile the Americans are dealing with enemy machine gunners left behind in the fields of waving corn."

BOLSHEVIKI URGED VIOLENCE TO THE ALLIED CITIZENS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Kandalaska, Russian—Lapland, Aug. 5.—David R. Francis, the American ambassador to Russia, returned here today from the Murmansk region and will remain at Kandalaska pending developments. The allied diplomatic corps expects to move to Archangel shortly.

Volunteer detachments of White Guards are giving aid to the allied units pursuing the Bolshevik forces retreating southward from Archangel.

The new Archangel government has arrested most of the Bolshevik leaders who had not fled. The Bolshevik commissioner of war, Zenkevich, was killed, otherwise the change in government was virtually bloodless.

Before the allied troops landed at Archangel the local Bolsheviks issued a proclamation to the troops urging violence toward allied citizens.

NO RELIEF IS IN SIGHT AS MERCURY BEGINS SOARING

Washington, Aug. 7.—Waves of heat from a new low pressure developing over the great lakes and spreading eastward sent the mercury soaring again today through the middle west, east and south and the weather bureau had one hope for relief from the record hot weather for at least two days.

The "low" which began the trouble passed, over the half of St. Lawrence into the Atlantic yesterday but it was quickly followed by another taking the same track. With this development came the news that the tropical hurricane which swept lower Louisiana from the gulf of Mexico yesterday had died in its tracks, dissipating hope of relief from that quarter.

Only abnormally low humidity is saving the country in the path of the heat waves from terrible suffering. Only today several eastern cities reported temperatures higher than at the same time yesterday.

JAPANESE FREIGHTER SUNK BY SUBMARINE

A Canadian Atlantic Port, Au 7.—An American schooner arrived here today with 45 members of the crew of a Japanese freight steamer which had been torpedoed off the Nova Scotia coast.

The vessel was the Tokuyama Maru of 7029 tons gross. She was sunk without warning about 200 miles off shore on August 1, according to the crew.

The Tokuyama Maru, a freighter was owned by the Japanese mail steamship company, was on a voyage from England to an American port. The crew took to the small boats and was picked up by the American schooner. The vessel was built at Kobe in 1915.

The submarine fired five torpedoes before the freighter went down, members of the crew said. Several hours later the boat came alongside the small boats and the German commander questioned the Japanese regarding their vessel.

GREAT STORES OF AMMUNITION WERE CAPTURED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) With the French Army in France, Aug. 7.—The army of General Bethelot, whose operations had a marked effect in bringing about the retreat of the crown prince across the Vesle by breaking down the eastern pivot of his line, southwest of Rheims, effected heavy captures of material during the fighting. In one week alone 300,000 shells of heavy calibre were taken, in addition to immense quantities of material.

This army also captured several batteries of heavy and field guns which are now being used against the enemy. Its booty comprises likewise, in addition to 372 machine guns, hundreds of light trench mortars. The army's bag of prisoners exceeded 2000.

TITANIC STRUGGLE ALONG THE VESLE CONTINUES AS ALLIES AND GERMANS MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR FUTURE OPERATIONS WITHIN SHORT TIME

NUMBER OF PRISONERS TAKEN AND FURTHER GAINS ARE MADE IN THE MONTDIDIER REGION

German Crown Prince is Preparing for Further Efforts to Check the Allied Advance and May Make Definite Stand Between the Vesle and the Aisne—Efforts to Dislodge French and American Troops North of the Vesle Have Met With Failure—Rain on Battle Front Hampers Allies in Movement of Guns and Reinforcements to Renew Their Offensives.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) On the French Front, August 7, 3:30 p. m.—The allies today threw a force across the river Vesle. It met and defeated the Germans. The enemy launched a strong counter attack which was repulsed by a violent barrage.

A Franco-American force gained a footing on the northern bank of the river to the east of Braisne last evening. It attacked the enemy and took more than 100 prisoners.

Franco-American forces were thrown across the Vesle river last evening and forced the enemy back.

The crossing was effected to the east of Braisne. The enemy attacked there and 100 prisoners were taken.

Shortly afterward the Germans launched a counter-attack with a heavy artillery barrage but could not dislodge the allies, who stuck to the positions they had won.

The enemy appears to have strong forces in this neighborhood. On the remainder of the front there was comparative calm except for artillery fire.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, August 7.—Along the Vesle the French continue to repulse German attacks, especially between Braisne and Soissons. The war office announces that one hundred prisoners have been captured east of Braisne.

The Germans today made a local attack against the French position south of Auberville, in Champagne. They were repulsed. French troops last night made further gains in the Montdidier region.

In the course of the fighting near the Vesle the French occupied the station of Ciry-Salonne, just to the west of the bend in the Vesle where it turns northward to join the Aisne.

The statement reads:

"In the region of Montdidier our troops have made some local progress south of Framicourt and southeast of Mesnil St. Georges (west of Montdidier)."

"Along the Vesle the French last night repulsed German attempts against La Grange farm (west of Braisne) and against the station of Ciry-Salonne. We made 100 prisoners east of Braisne."

"In Champagne a local attack was directed this morning against our positions south of Auberville. It was thrown back."

(Compiled from A-P Dispatches) Artillery duels and patrol actions continue along the Vesle front while the allies and Germans make ready for future operations. "Indications point to a resumption of fighting on this line within a few hours."

Whether the German crown prince will attempt a definite stand between the Vesle and the Aisne is not yet clear, but it seems apparent he is preparing for further efforts to check the allied advance. His medium calibre guns are bombarding the allied positions south of the Vesle intensely and he has been making strong efforts to dislodge the French and American troops holding bridgeheads on the north bank. All his attempts, however, have met with failure.

It was to be expected that several days would elapse before the allies could be in shape to renew their offensive across the Vesle. The bad weather has hampered the movement of guns and reinforcements as well as aerial scout work. Rain is reported to have fallen again on the battlefield Tuesday afternoon.

When infantry fighting does reopen in force it probably will mark a new phase in the year's campaign. The Marne pocket has been cleared of the enemy and the crown prince defeated. Premier Clemenceau announces that the German losses, including 35,000 prisoners and 700 guns.

Interesting reports are received from Paris concerning the future plans of the German high command. Some observers there assert that the Germans will strike the British front simultaneously with an attack by the German fleet on the British fleet. Another report is that the Germans will shorten their lines on the western front for the special purpose of gaining more power, from lack of which they are reported to be suffering seriously.

Intense bitterness has marked what little fighting there has been between Soissons and Rheims. The American forces in Fismes and north of the river have been subjected to heavy bombardment from cannon and machine guns but have held on. West of Fismes Tuesday a German battalion prepared to attack American bridge builders along the Vesle. The entire force was wiped out by American machine gunners.

Southwest of Montdicourt the Germans attacked yesterday and took some of the ground recently won by Australians astride the Bray-Corbier road. This morning the British counter-attacked, won back the positions. Some of the enemy troops were taken captive. London claims that all the objectives fixed for the counter-attack have been secured.

British troops at the apex of the German salient in Flanders have pushed forward their outposts still farther on a front of 2,000 yards in this double offensive the gain of ground and consequently the only visible sign of success is on the allied side, the newspaper says.

WILL COMPLETE THE CONSOLIDATION OF COMPETING LINES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Aug. 7.—Postmaster General Burleson announced today that one of the first effects of government control of telephone and telegraphs probably would be the coordination and consolidation of competing services wherever possible.

Negotiations were already under way for consolidating a number of competing telephone systems when the government assumed control. The postmaster general will not disturb these negotiations in any manner. When an agreement is reached between the companies it will be submitted to the postoffice department for approval. Where no negotiations with a view of consolidation have yet begun, the postmaster general says there is no objection to the companies taking up negotiations with the understanding that any agreement reached will have to be approved.

GERMAN HOPE OF ENDING WAR BLASTED

Zurich, Aug. 7.—The German hope of ending the war by a military decision before the arrival of the Americans was blasted by the recent allied offensive, the Socialist newspaper Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna points out in concluding a recent article on the military situation.

All the explanations and comments cannot alter the patent fact that in this double offensive the gain of ground and consequently the only visible sign of success is on the allied side, the newspaper says.

HERE'S CHANCE FOR YOUNG WOMEN TO ENLIST AS NURSES

The American Red Cross and the Council of National Defense through the nursing and woman's committee are uniting to conduct a short, immediate and intensive campaign to enroll a United States Student Nurse Reserve for training schools in both army and civilian hospitals in order that every vacancy shall be filled. The important work of recruiting is now to be done before August 12th.
It is the desire of Surgeon General Gorgas that every American wounded soldier on reaching a French hospital will be received by an American Red Cross nurse, who will attend to his correspondence, cheer him, and explain his needs to the French attendants.
Telegrams calling attention to General Gorgas' new request for one thousand nurses a week for overseas duty makes it imperative that Ohio fill her student nurse reserve quota of 2230. Licking county's quota is 28. 25,000 is the goal. Whose will be the first names on the roster. Remember the drive closes, August 11th. The following young women of Licking county have volunteered previous to this special drive and have their hospital assignment and many of them are already in training.

H. P. Wolfe
COUNTY CHAIRMAN STATE DIRECTOR GOVERNOR

Licking county's success in the War Savings Stamp drive depends to a large extent upon the membership in the "Limit Club." Without a large number of people buying 200 WSS and becoming members of the $1,000 War Savings Society, the county will not reach its quota of stamp sales—$1,236,180. To date more than 300 Licking county people have "gone the limit" by buying 200 WSS—all the law allows one person to own. The Licking County War Work Organization, now in the second day of the four-day drive, hopes to increase the "Victory List" to 600 names. These names are being posted on the Court House Park bulletin board, and will remain there for four months.
Every member of the "Limit Club" is entitled to a certificate personally signed by Governor Cox and State Director Wolfe. The lettering is done by

To complete the WSS campaign the Licking County War Work Organization is endeavoring to sell $540,000 worth of WSS this week, August 6, 7, 8, 9. This will put Licking county "over the top." It means, however, that the stamp sales must average $17,000 an hour, eight hours a day, for four days. Licking county has the largest Limit Club in Ohio, with the exception of Cincinnati. Help to keep it in the front row. Buy 200 WSS for $838. They are tax free, pay 4.27%—the world's best investment. If you can't buy 200, buy 100, 50, 25. Anyhow buy all the stamps you can this week. Every $5 stamp puts Old Licking nearer the goal. The solicitors received a cordial reception wherever they went yesterday. They made many sales, but they must make a great many sales in order to win.

LEONARD EAR OIL
Restores Hearing, Stops Head Noises

Nine out of ten cases of Deafness and Head Noises are caused by catarrhal inflammation in the Eustachian Tube, which connects the nose and the ears. The Leonard Ear Oil removes the mucus, opens up the tube and the other air passages of the head, and the result is improved hearing and relief from Head Noises. It is not put in the ears, but is "injected in back of ears" and inserted in the nostrils, and "Common Sense" directs the way.

GIRLS, YOU ARE INVITED TO TAKE A SWIM IN POOL

There is one class of persons in Newark who are immune to heat-stroke, the small boy who has swimming privileges in the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday the capacity—which is 30—was exceeded by eight or 10 boys at one time; all through the hot days, boys and men seek this Mecca of the hot.

The slogan displayed above the sidewalk in front of the "Y." "Don't swelter—swim," caught the eye of a lady in passing. She stepped inside to tell the secretary it wasn't fair to display a sign like that when it applied only to men. During the month of August, from 9 to 11 o'clock in the morning on Tuesdays and Thursdays, the pool will be open to girls and women also. Wednesday evenings as usual at 7:30. Ten cents is charged each customer. This is one out of consideration of the fact that this is the only indoor pool in Newark, and in this extreme weather it is hardly fair not to provide for swimmers for sisters and mothers.

The swimming campaign which was held in May results in a number of additions to the membership of the association. At present there is an effort on foot to give every man and boy in the Newark factories a chance to try the pool; cards good for two swims are put in the pay envelopes.

FIRE AT NIGHT PROWLER DURING AN EARLY HOUR

Hearing a noise under her window and then seeing a man sneaking between her house and that of a neighbor Mrs. G. Bohon Schmitt, fired at the intruder at her home in North Fourth street at an early hour this morning.

Rev. M. Schmitt and Rev. Dunmeyer, who were unable to sleep on account of the heat were in the kitchen talking. Mrs. Schmitt heard the noise beneath her window, and then the gates between the house and the street were blown to bits late yesterday on a road near Circleville when a load of nitro-glycerine which he was driving exploded. The remains were taken through here today by a Circleville undertaker for burial in Bremen.

GRAND.
The recent murder of the prominent young society millionaire, Herbert Franklyn, has uncovered many unique sidelights on the victim's character. It is known that Franklyn, since his return from the East, had become imbued with superstitions and exotic ideas. Telepathy seemed to me the subject of his greatest thought. Certain of the Japanese and other Oriental peoples, he claimed, were able by concentration to send thought messages around the world and communicate with each other.

Herbert Franklyn thought he could go on forever in his wild and selfish course. Women were playthings to him, and their happiness nothing. Tired of the pathetic and wistful little Cherry Blossom of Japan, he left her in a New York suburb to pine in sorrow and mourn in agony over the dead body of her babe. But Kato, her beloved, has exchanged a pledge with her in Japan, a pledge that she would send for him with a thought message. "If the time ever comes that you are in sorrow, let your spirit seek my spirit and I shall hear the call."

And Kato came. And Tokimasa came. It is the tragedy of women the world over, this tragedy of Cherry Blossom, but love triumphs in the end.

Triangle players, producers and scenic artists have combined to make this play called "Her American Husband" a masterpiece of the silent drama that will bring smiles and tears to millions. It will be shown at the Grand theatre Thursday and Friday.

GEN.
Thursday.
There are some great moments packed with action and suspense in the Triangle drama, "Hell's Hinges." Among other scenes, there is one particularly. One is the fight between the tough and the good elements of the town, which results in the temporary victory of the evil forces.

They signalize their triumph by firing down the church. But the evil-doers had not reckoned with Blane Tracy (Wm. S. Hart). When he comes riding in and finds that the church has been destroyed, he is infuriated. He kills, and the woman he loves in danger of insult, his wrath exceeds bounds. He kills Silk Miller, the crafty and treacherous saloon and gambling house keeper, and stands off a whole room full of desperate men while he shoots in the flames, but Blane allows them to sink out in the narrow winding streets, there are scenes of disorder and excitement as the flames of destruction sweep over the whole town.

ALHAMBRA.
Friday and Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, who are starred in "Pay Day," the five-reel Metro novelty special production, which has been specially booked for showing at the Alhambra theatre on Friday and Saturday, secured some "locations" not ordinarily seen in motion pictures.

Many of the most important scenes in "Pay Day" were taken in the home of New York State Senator T. Douglas Colquhoun, who although obliged to be out of the city at the time, had his caretakers show the crews and their company every courtesy. The marble stairway of the St. George Hotel in Brooklyn, is shown in some of the scenes. One of the owners of the hotel has frequently invited the Drews to make scenes for their pictures there, and the guests of the St. George have become thoroughly accustomed to seeing motion picture actors taking scenes in evening dress at lunch time, with the camera grinding merrily away. Alhambra Friday and Saturday.

Next Monday and Tuesday.
The story of "The Planter," a new Mutual special production based on the famous southern Mexican novel of Herman Whitaker, covers a wider range of territory than any other picture on the screen.

During the progress of the play the actors progress from deep snows and the dead of winter to the hottest days of the tropics where snow has never been seen, and again there are transitions from the canoe countryside of long settled New England, to the riotous wilderness of the Mexican forest where hard work with the machete must precede every step of the adventurous traveler.

AUDITORIUM.
"The Claw."
Despite the excessive heat yesterday sized crowds saw Clara Kimball Young in her latest Select Picture Corp. feature, "The Claw." It is a most interesting story and we might say exciting. Among the Kaffirs of South Africa, the mad are considered sacred, and the way this traditional custom saves the life of the young Englishman who has fallen captive to the natives, is one of the interesting scenes in this great play.

Anthony Kincaid, or "Kim," is the young Englishman whose sagacity suggests this manner of saving his own skin. After his capture by the Kaffirs, he is kept in a cage, he simulates madness and so saves his life until he is rescued and restored to Mary Saurin (Clara Kimball Young).

"The Claw" is by far one of the best vehicles Miss Young has had in some time. It possesses an unusual plot which is worked out against the colorful background of South Africa with dramatic intensity, relieved by a subtle character development and a charming love story. Miss Young as Mary Saurin, the London bred girl who visits her brother in the South African country and there falls in love with Major Kincaid, played by her new leading man, Milton Sills. Others in the clever cast are Henry Woodward, Mary Marsh, Marcia Manon, Jack Holt and Edna Kimball. The scenario was written by Charles E. Whitaker from the book by Cynthia Stockley, who is famous for her vivid and colorful tales of life in this hinterland.

The last showings of "The Claw" will be shown today and tomorrow at the Auditorium that great star of stars, Julian Eltinge, known as the world's greatest female impersonator, who appears in "The Widows Might," a Paramount feature, that his patrons have the treat of their lives. Eltinge is available and in pictures. He is said to receive a mighty sum. When you stop to consider the price of pictures, you are seeing in this a most costly feature. "The Widows Might" tells a cleverly arranged story by Marion Fairfax and we give it below.

Dick Tavis (Julian Eltinge), is an enterprising young New Yorker who decides there "is money in cows" and establishes himself as a rancher. After the novelty of this existence has worn off, he finds himself very lonely in spite of the occasional visits of his neighbors, Pete and Ned.

It is perhaps partly because of his loneliness that he falls in love with the idealized head of a girl on a fancy calendar sent out by a Chicago firm, whose president happened to be an old classmate of his. He writes his friend about the girl appearing on the calendar and learns that she is the beautiful Irene Stuart who is making such a sensation at Coronado, a nearby fashionable resort.

When, soon after, Dick learns that he must go to Coronado to see Horace Hammond, the man who sold him his ranch and whom he believes has put over a crooked deal, he is delighted for he realizes that he will see Irene Stuart with whose picture he is in love, as well as getting a clear title to his ranch by proving Hammer a crook.

We next see Dick accompanied by Ned, his pal, registering in the lobby of the hotel at Coronado. Irene sees him and recognizes him as the man who had admitted her picture for the president of the company was her friend as well as Dick's old classmate and had told her of the rancher's admiration of her picture.

Dick's first interview with Hammer is very unsatisfactory, but he resolves to bide his time. While they are talking, Irene, in another part of the hotel, finds a stray baby at her door with a note asking her above all things not to mention it to an institution. The whole thing is a plot of one of the hotel maids to blackmail the rich guests. Irene wants to keep the baby, but is prevented by her wealthy and very brilliant aunt, Mrs. Pomroy Pomroy, who sends her down to dinner, bidding her leave the baby for the present, for they have an important dinner engagement with the rich Mr. Hammer.

WHY TOWNS GROW.

"Town boosting" campaigns are a favorable subject, and often the means of doing things. Many people think that when they have had a rousing chamber of commerce meeting, and have appointed a committee to locate some new industries, results can be expected at once. Commonly those committees go to sleep and the town goes in the old rut.

To get any results, it is necessary to organize. But the appointment of decorative committees, that merely meet and gossip, is useless. Getting new industries is difficult, as most of the old established firms prefer to stay where they are. But there are always chances to get new concerns or new branches of old ones. It takes hustle to make known a town's advantages and solicit co-operation. But the thing can be done, and the towns that grow have usually done it.

It is a problem to know in season of bona fide opportunities, where a really worthy manufacturing proposition is seeking a location. When it becomes known that a concern is thinking of establishing itself in some new place, it gets offers and inducements by the hundreds.

Such information comes only when business men keep their eyes and ears open, and cultivate a wide acquaintance. A wide awake town booster should belong to commercial organizations outside his town. He will make business friends every time he takes a railroad journey, or stops at a hotel, or goes on an automobile trip. He will cultivate their acquaintance, get points useful to himself and his home town.

If all the business men of Newark were constantly doing this, they would hear of chances to obtain new enterprises to locate here. If such chances were followed up, some of them would make good.

HEAT AND HUMAN LIFE

Climate influences human life, and July and August temperatures affect social conditions very largely. Great industrial enterprises are built on hot weather. Hundreds of millions are invested in summer resort and hotel property. Fortunes are made out of cooling drinks and from sale equipment for summer resort travel.

Some people thrive under a sizzling sun. There are some fortunate localities favored with cooling breezes where the mercury never climbs high. But 90 per cent of the working population suffer from hot weather strain for about two months, and the number of people who seek relief in summer resorts increases a little every year.

The farmer finds himself in July at the crisis of his year's work. No hot weather vacation for him. A large part of the factory workers never take vacations. They have times enough during years of depression when they get all the idling they want. So a two weeks shut down in hot weather has never figured in the demands of union labor. In spite of all our prosperity, many people never get money enough ahead to go away. Traveling expenses have to be paid in advance.

Suffering from hot weather varies according to locality. The thermometer may run high in the country, but out in the pure air the discomfort is not serious. It is in great cities that it becomes a serious menace to health.

The countryman who goes down the streets of New York or Chicago with the thermometer at 95, feels that he knows all about that fiery furnace the Bible told about. Not merely is there a high temperature, but a certain human steam pervades the air confined between high buildings and produces a sickening lassitude. The metropolitan city dweller in these times wonders why he ever left the comparative comfort of his home town.

THE RUSSIAN DANGER

(Philadelphia Record.)
The latest news from Russia shows that the Allies ought not to lose any time in blocking the German plans. The Soviet administration—it can hardly be called a Government—has made concessions to Germany in Estonia and Courland which amount practically to their cession to Germany.

Whether the Bolsheviks are acting voluntarily or under compulsion does not matter. They are acting in the interest of our enemies, and acting in a way that may seriously complicate the task of the Allies. Therefore, they are enemies of the Allies. They do not represent the people of Russia, but they are immaterial. If they did represent the Russian people their action would only prove that the Russians had joined our enemies.

There is not much food for human beings in Russia. Von Eichhorn has been killed because he was taking food from the peasantry, who were to be left to starve, and sending it to Germany. To placate Germany the Ukraine administration will probably put two or three hundred Revolutionary Socialists to death.

But the peasantry were merely defending their property, the property with which they cannot live. The amount of food obtained from Russia by characteristic German military measures is not great, but undoubtedly the Germans can raise a great deal of food in the Baltic provinces and the Ukraine next year. If the men have been killed off they will harness the women to the plows.

But the men have not all been killed off. The population of Russia is enormous. While there is a scarcity of food for humans there is no lack of "cannon fodder." And Germany will get hold of that by next spring if it can stand the war so long. The German losses have been tremendous. No reinforcements are to be had except the 500,000 or 600,000 boys coming of military age annually. Every two months as many Americans are added to the Allied armies. Next spring, if the war shall not be ended earlier, there will be 2,000,000 and probably 3,000,000 Americans in France. With that force the Allies can march to Berlin, and the Kaiser knows it.

There is one possible means of escape for him, and that is to impress millions of Russians into the army. If the Allies can possibly block the Kaiser's plans by action in Russia they should be about it. If they cannot they should push the war to the utmost this year and break the power of Germany before it can recruit a Russian army. And in any event, any agreement between Germany and what purports to be a Government in Russia is null and void. The Allies cannot and will not tolerate it. Germany would be most dangerous, more powerful for evil than it was four years ago if it could annex a large part of Russia and dominate the rest. The Allies must deliver Russia, erect the Kingdom of Poland and establish a Czech-Slav State in the southeast. The world can't afford to fight this war over again.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

"Training Detachment,
"University of Akron,
August 5, 1918.
"To Newark Advocate and the People of Licking County:
"I take this opportunity of thanking you for the medal which was sent me last week. It certainly was appreciated by me and admired by both the officers and men of our detachment.

"Army life is great and everyone enjoys themselves, even though there is a high task still before us. We have all our time taken up by something or other, every minute, but there is always time for mirth and we go to bed smiling and arise in the same mood, and some of the fellows even laugh in their sleep. So you see that there is play as well as work, and the well-known motto: 'It's a great life if you don't weaken,' is quite true.

"Our detachment is composed of five platoons, and is divided into four platoons, one of which goes each morning, after an hour's drill, to the four large rubber plants for seven hours' instruction in tire-construction and repair.

"I go to the Firestone plant where we sure get the very best of treatment. Yours respectfully,

"Foster E. Wyant,
"Acting Supply Sergeant, Training Detachment, University of Akron, Akron, O."

Mr. Wyant enclosed the following on the service flag which is published by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.:

The Service Flag in the Window.
The service flag hanging in the little home you pass every morning on your way to work has a special message for you.

"It says in effect that a man gave up the comforts of his home to protect you in the comforts of your home.

"He did not know until the time of parting came how many ties bound together his life and the lives of those about him, nor how much pain it would cause to others under that roof to break those ties.

"THE FLAG SAYS that he gave up his independence to become part of a war machine which recognizes no hours of work. He does all that he can and then under the pinch of necessity he often does more than he believed man to be capable of doing. Though there is practically no pay, as wages in the industrial world go, he would scorn a comrade who would tempt him to regulate his efforts for your protection by hours served or money obtained. Like the toys of his babyhood, these things have been left behind him, for, up there at the front in France, he knows, as you can never know, how inconsequential are the wages and hours of civil life.

"The service flag hanging in that little home you pass every morning also says:

"YOU ARE REASONABLY SURE that you will return safe and sound to the quiet of your home tonight, but he whose place is vacant here must work and march and sleep in the shadow of death until your liberty has been made secure. You will not make it more difficult for him."

"BUT, MOST OF ALL, the little flag tells you that he who dwelt there expects you in your work to stand by him in his work, in your work which is so safe and easy compared with his own; while he is standing between you, your mother, your wife, your daughter, and—what?"

"IT TELLS YOU, TOO, that while he is doing teamwork at the very gates of hell for you and yours, he has a RIGHT to expect that—casting aside and tramping under foot all your selfish considerations—you will do teamwork here for him as well as for yourself.

"IF THAT FLAG COULD SPEAK aloud for him who is in uniform, quickly would it convince you of the importance of ALL transportation, ALL agricultural work in the United States until Germany is defeated; and bluntly would it tell you that ANYTHING that retards or makes more difficult useful work IS AN AID TO THE FOE HE IS FACING.

"But more plainly still, should the service flag hanging in the little home that you pass every morning say that within there is a woman with whitened hair who prays daily that the boy for whom the flag hangs may one day return to her. If you who pass along, are a real man, you will register a vow that you, through your work, will do your part to have her prayer answered."

The following letter was received at the Elk club yesterday from one of the members, Sergt. Ross Simpson, who is serving with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. His address is Battery B, 324th P. A. H. Am. Ex. Forces, Somewhere in France, July 7, 1918.

Dear Brothers:
I hope this letter finds every one feeling as good as I am. We are all just feeling fine and like France fine as much of it as we have seen. We went from Camp Sherman to Camp Mills and from there I think I sent you a card. We only stayed there a short time and loaded on the boat. We were all given a day in and sure did take in the sights as we thought it would be the last time for some time.

I spent just one night in a hammock and after that I was too sick to get in one. I fed the fishes until I saw land. We passed by a boat with just the — above the — one the — had —. The one that Charley Rinehart of Newark was on had saved.

We did not see a sub and we were all glad of it but there isn't the slightest chance for them as all boats are too.

We landed in England and marched from the dock to the depot and there was lots of people there cheering us. We took a train for a ride to a camp and we saw the finest country and homes I ever saw. Also the R. R. bed was the best in the country and the cleanest. The R. R. are very funny and much smaller than those in the U. S. and the coaches are divided in sections and all persons to station and you all got in from the side. The conductor calls himself, the Guard and has a small section in the rear of the rear coach. I didn't suppose they could run fast but they sure can.

Every house and barn are built of brick and stone and all fences are of stone and laid up very neat. The farms all look fine but I don't see how they farm them as they haven't anything like the machinery the U. S. farmers and if the farmers had to use the same tools they would starve to death. We landed at the camp in England after night and marched a short ways to it under full pack. We only stayed there a short time and left for France and arrived all O. K. and marched to another camp and here we saw lots of Americans and they sure looked good and lots of them that had been over here for some time and all watching to see if any of their friends was there. There are men from every town in the U. S. I haven't seen a fellow I knew yet.

The kids followed us just like they would a circus and all begging for souvenirs, they had all wooden shoes on and made more noise than we did with our hobb nails. We only stayed in this place a short time and moved where we are.

The R. R. in France are nothing like in the U. S. They have three classes of passengers and then they loaded us on and I never will forget them if I live for ever. The rails are about 40 feet long and joints opposite each other and when these short cars hit you can't tell if you are on the track on ties. They have no brakes only they have a kind of a box over a hand brake and every so many cars a man sits in these places and uses a hand brake. The engineer whistles the signals to him. We had one man get off and failed to catch the end of the train and they finally got the train stopped and some of the officers went back and got him, he was all O. K.

We unloaded at some town which I can't tell and here we marched to a large field and pitched our tents and went to bed and about the third time since I left — that I have had a good night's sleep.

The next morning we got up and were marched to the central part of the town to a fine home and we supposed it was some rich home, but we were assigned to our new Hotel, Hotel De Barn, the barn. We cleaned the place out and moved in our new home. We put up to a field close and I put up at the same hotel. We sleep in them when the weather is good. We have our own mess and the eats are good.

We are billeted in several different places over the town, but eat and drink the same place. These towns are built very funny, the farms are owned by rich people and they have fine hames and big yards and high fences from 6 to 10 feet high and at one side or end the barn yard is connected and they have poor people who work for them that live in one corner of the barn. They sure are hard workers and a woman can do as much hard work as a man.

There isn't any of them but what has all kinds of wine and cider and all have a wine room but very little beer.

All we spent a quiet 4th, we didn't have any drill but was marched at 330 to a field where the mayor of the town spoke to us and after this we sang all our American songs and were dismissed for the day, but as there isn't any kind of amusement we just spent the rest of the day resting.

We have no Y. M. C. A. here but hope to have one at our next camp. There were about 20 of us marched to the river and took a swim, we had only to walk about six miles. There isn't any bath tubs or a shower in the city.

We haven't seen a paper since June 7 and can't tell when we will get to see one. It takes five weeks for mail to reach us and I suppose about the same time for ours to get to you.

It is hard to write letters from over here as our mail is all censored and not much to write about. I suppose Howard Keiler is over here some where but haven't seen him. Ray Wintermute and Ralph Priest are here with us and both send their best to every one.

I suppose that it is pretty warm by this time as I know it is here and we are about the same climate.

I haven't seen a dozen automobiles since I came here except U. S. trucks they all have one horse carts and use oxen to plow with.

I guess I will quit for this time as I am a very poor letter writer and there isn't much to write about and we haven't a whole lot of time. I will make this answer for you all. Give my best to every one and tell them to look for us all after the war and I don't think that will be long as Germany can see herself slipping. If any of you find time a few lines would be appreciated by all of us. I remain your Brother, Sergt. Ross Simpson.

Bat. B. 324 P. A. H. American Expeditionary Forces via New York.

From Emerald Wilson.

Editor of the Advocate:—Just this week I was surely surprised and delighted as well to receive a Licking county medal. You may believe me when I say it is a splendid gift and I appreciated by every soldier and sailor as much as by me, your efforts to let the boys, now "doing their bit," know that they have friends back home, are most praise-worthy. Such a medal is indeed a beautiful gift and grows in value to me every day. For it means that the people of Licking county are fighting the Hun behind the lines just as we boys are preparing to tick him soundly at the front. And take it from me, well never stop until this "German devil" is made to pay for every drop of blood he has caused to be shed. Our battery here is about ready to go "over there" and every man—representing practically every state in the Union, with over 25 Ohio boys in it is eagerly awaiting the order to move. We have almost our full equipment and just last week, our commanding officer, Col. Clark of the "Fighting 74th," as we term ourselves, inspected us for the last time before we assemble to go overseas. This regiment, the 74th, is the last of the Eastern division and the only one now in the U. S. A. All the others being across, on the way. As they are anxious to complete this division in France, our orders to move are bound to come soon. Six batteries averaging 150 to 180 men, comprise our regiment and all awaiting the call to assemble. Batteries A, B and C are at Fort Totten, N. Y.; Battery D is at Sandy Hook, on Long Island; Battery E is here at Fort Howard and Battery F is at Fort Monroe, Va. It is not yet decided from what port we will leave but after we have sailed and safely arrived, then this can be disclosed. However, this month of August is our last full month in the U. S. for some time, and no man in the battery is sorry. We all want to help "kick the Kaiser." Please remember me to all my good friends in Licking county and especially "Jud" Evans and the other good Greenville people. Tell them I often think of the "best place on earth" and at times wish I were back in old Licking's hills. I'll be back all right just as soon as this war is over. Again let me thank you for your great kindness in procuring a medal for me and I assure you I shall ever be under obligations to you. The best of success to you and the Advocate. I often get copies from home and delight in reading them.

Very truly yours,
Pvt. Emerald "Bubby" Wilson.

P. S.—Forgot to tell you that C. A. stands for coast artillery corps, also that I have been made a first class private with $3 a month more and on the rifle range was fortunate enough to be one of the eight men in the battery out of 183 to average better than 150 out of 200 points with the rifle at target record shoot-

The following letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Keller from their son, Howard, who is now serving with a machine-gun company in France:

Somewhere in France, June 30, '18.
To my Dear Parents:
You no doubt will be surprised to hear from me at this place, but I finally got here after so much traveling. Did not stay in England very long. Had a delightful trip over here traveling in various ways. The country over here is very beautiful, especially the way we came. You see fields of grain and garden crops growing mixed with poppies all through out the fields, all kinds of gardening and well kept. We have to be very careful about walking over hay fields over here. Very quaint old houses mostly of stone with barn on one side and resident section on the other. The place where we are sleeping is in an old mill and we sleep in the hay loft. The old mill is running with a water wheel underneath used for power in operating mill. Very nice people live there. But cannot carry on any conversation with them. We have our straw ticks filled with new mown hay and the loft is very clean, haven't had any trouble sleeping yet. The climate here is just about the same as at home with exceptions of the evenings which get very cool, but we have enough cover to keep us warm. Am sitting on the side of a hill writing these few lines in the shade. Did my washing yesterday which was very large as the trip over here was long and dirty one and didn't get a chance to do a real washing, but have got caught up now and everything is clean.

I am feeling fine and like the place where I am now stationed and am waiting for the time when we get a chance to end this war. Still with the same bunch of fellows. Well as I am running short of news that I know I will have to bring this to a close, hoping these few lines will find everybody well. Give everybody my best for me and tell them I am O. K. at present writing. I remain as ever,

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, sometimes I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my household work. NOT SPAIN OF OLD GLORIES Country's Life Just One Plot After Another, Fanned by German Hot Air, Declares Writer.

The Spain of today is not the Spain of your tradition or your imagination. It is remote from being the colorful and romantic domain which was once the mainspring of great adventure and the inspiration of poet and painter. The glories of Velasquez and Cervantes have not been revived in our day, writes Isaac F. Marcossin in the Saturday Evening Post.

She presents the spectacle of sad contrast with a departed splendor. Once a treasure house of art and wealth, the haven of mighty armadas, the nerve center of a far-reaching power on land and sea, she finds herself rent with disorder and a tool for Germanic conspiracy.

She has no twentieth century Cortes to recreate her one-time world vision; she lacks a contemporary Castelar to win the multitude with the magic of his eloquence or to guide her ship of state with steady hand through the perilous waters of uncertainty. There is not even an up-to-date Don Quixote to tilt at the windmills of discontent fanned by Teutonic hot air!

Life with her is still one plot after another. To a degree greater than existed in the Russia that was, she is like a national bomb factory. Spain always has a pretender in her midst. Worst of all, the ruling classes—that is, the classes that rule today—are hand in glove with a vast, close-knit and effective German propaganda that, aiming at the root of Hispanic economic independence, is subtly reaching out to influence the whole world that thinks works, buys and sells in Spanish.

HELPED RICHEST JAP WOMAN

Speculator, Having Amassed Millions, Is a Walking Curio in the Streets of Kobe.

Madame Suzuki is reported to be the richest woman in Japan. She is at the head of Suzuki & Co., which is reported to have coined a few hundred million yen since the beginning of the world war.

Madam Suzuki is the daughter of a modest stockbroker in the city of Osaka, says Adachi Kinnosuke, in Leslie's. She married Mr. Suzuki when he was a petty merchant. When he died, however, he left what was considered quite a fortune in Japan in those days. The present prime minister of hers, Kaneko, was then in charge of the business. Kaneko speculated and lost; the net loss amounted to a good many thousand yen more than the entire fortune which his late master had left to his widow and children. Kaneko actually had his foot on a crossbar of a bridge railing over the Yodo river in Osaka, ready to jump into the cold beyond, as the only fit apology for his terrific blunder. "I can die," said he to himself solemnly enough, "and that is easy enough. But my dying now would not help the widow and her children."

"Very well," she said. And that is all she said. She did not ask him how, why, where—nothing. She took her children and went back to her home. Her premier lives today like a mendicant after amassing not only millions but many hundred millions for her, and his one dissipation is his work. He is a walking curio in the streets of Kobe.

Trawlers Net a U-Boat.

A Dutch newspaper prints the story of a German U-boat which was caught in a British trap and towed into a British port. The story comes from a member of the U-boat's crew who escaped from England and is interned in Holland.

"We had sighted some English fishing boats off the English coast and were maneuvering for attack, when their curious movements led us to suspect a trap, so we dived. We proceeded slowly, but presently the screw began to beat irregularly and the commander could not make out what had happened.

"After about two hours the water seemed curiously still, and the commander decided to come to the surface. When we emerged we were alongside a quay where stood a number of smiling British sailors. We were in a British port, towed in like a dead fish."

Earth Tremors Due to Thunder.

A peculiar effect of thunder was recently reported to the weather bureau by Douglas F. Manning of Alexandria, Va., N. Y. During the storm, which prevailed in the evening, each rumble of thunder caused windows and doors to rattle, chinaware to jar, and tremors in the earth simulating the shocks of an earthquake. Many persons thought that an earthquake was in progress. The weather bureau states that since "musical" notes of very low pitch and great volume are sometimes produced by a series of sequent or pulsating lightning discharges, the shaking described was probably due largely to the resonant response of rooms to thunder notes of this character.

Machine Gun Noisy as Riveter.

A machine gun makes a noise like a riveter. A doctor near the front writes in the Yale Alumni Weekly: "It was fully two weeks, I think, that I wondered where any structural iron work could be going on here and why the riveter worked in such short spells—then I suddenly realized that it was a machine gun instead of a riveter. It is just the same sound—like a very noisy woodpecker on a hard, hollow tree."

HARRY P. KUTZ SAYS IT'S HOT

Harry P. Kutz, in a note written on a train in Nebraska giving instructions for mail delivery of his Advocate daily says under date of August 5:

"Hot? I should say so. It's 106 now 4 p. m. on a government thermometer in the vestibule of our sleeper. Quite a change from what we had all summer in North Dakota and northern Minnesota where it has been cold. Hot winds today and yesterday are burning up the corn. It looked fine through Nebraska up to today. Crops in Minnesota and Nebraska have been good all summer. We lost eighteen colored performers and musicians since we opened the show Campbell Brothers' minstrels at New Orleans last February and they are now in France. I know they will give a good account of themselves. I will swear by these Louisiana boys of mine. They are real 100 per cent Americans and will stand by the flag day and night, same as they did by our fighting Teddy in 1898. You remember that story. Teddy is a good scout but if it had not been for those colored troops, Eh?"

Cupid's Ways Are Sly.

Flowers in the shape of a bouquet have long been the means of amatory correspondence, but when a lady receives a basket of apples or pears from some friend, there need not be any suspicion attaching to so ordinary a present, especially if the lover addresses them to "mother." But when the largest and rosiest apple in the basket is known by the daughter to contain at its heart a long and passionate love letter written in a fine hand on foreign paper, it must be confessed that there may be more in the story of Eve than some people are prepared to believe.

Price Advance

For over a year now we have succeeded in maintaining our old prices, principally by virtue of a big increase in sales, which reduced our overhead cost.
For our fiscal year ending July 1, 1918, our sales amounted to over a million dollars—an increase of 58 per cent over the preceding year.
We had hoped to bridge the war period without a change in prices on but we find that our economies do not keep pace with our rising costs. It is with sincere regret therefore, that we are forced to announce an increase, ef-will make it necessary to

FOOT SPECIALIST

COMING FROM CHICAGO
The King shoe store of Newark has made arrangements to have a foot specialist from Chicago at their store from August 12 to August 17, to examine feet and give advice on the correction of foot-troubles without charge.
This specialist, who was trained under the personal direction of Dr.
Wm. M. Scholl, the recognized foot authority, has been loaned to the King shoe store by The Scholl Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, for this occasion. The store deserves credit for its progressiveness in obtaining, for the foot-sufferers of this community, an opportunity to get expert advice as to how foot comfort can be gained.

Prominent Physician
To Visit Newark

While Guests of Dr. Best He Will Demonstrate New Treatment.

Dr. C. C. Reid D. O., M. D. of Denver, Colorado, will stop in Newark Friday and Saturday of this week as the guest of Dr. A. E. Best while on his way to Denver from Boston where he demonstrated his special treatment at the convention of the American Osteopathic Association. Dr. Reid is a specialist of the diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and while in the city will examine and treat a number of cases for Dr. Best. He has a very effectual method for treating hemor-roids called the devolution treatment method which completely obvi-ates the use of the knife.

Probably seventy-five per cent of all cases of deafness and other ear troubles are due to catharral conditions, adhesions and discharges through the nose and throat. By correcting these abnormalities the cause of the trouble is removed and hearing restored.
Hay fever is invariably due to local changes in the structure in the nose. Dr. Reid will demonstrate a new method for these ailments which is now being used by Osteopaths with pronounced success.

Service Medal Fund.

stating he had arrived safely overseas.

Home Coming.
Perryto Disciples of Christ will hold an all day meeting Sunday, Aug. 11th at their church, Perrinton. Elder S. M. Cook who ministered to the church 40 years ago will be present to do the preaching. Former members of this church are invited.

Last Chance to Register.
The room at the board of elections in the city building will be kept open this evening until 9 o'clock, and all young men who have become of age since last election, others moving from one precinct into another and all voters who have not registered, must do so today if they wish to vote at the primaries on August 13.
Today is last registration day before the primaries.

Service Medal Fund.
Michael Sachs sends another dollar to the Advocate for the soldiers and sailors medal fund. This is the third time Mr. Sachs has contributed to this fund. Contributions are welcome as the demand for medals exceeds the contributions. To date the Advocate has had more than 1200 bronze medals engraved and given the campaign here and also requesting details of the Licking county war savings stamps campaign. Mr.

Davies provided the information promptly but is at a loss to know how Australia learned of the success of the Licking county campaign.

BLOOD RED, SOUL WHITE

America's Glorious Flag.
I love the name America.
It thrills me with delight,
I love the flag's proud colors,
The red, the blue, the white.

We must protect our country.
We each should do our share,
To help the good old U. S. A.
This land so bright and fair.

Young men stand by your flag today,
Be ever true and brave,
And honor those who gave their lives
That it might proudly wave.

We're in this conflict now to win,
So brace up every one,
You should not be ashamed to say You're Uncle Sam's son.

You're governed not by him alone,
But by the One above,
Who looks upon the battlefield,
With ever boundless love.

We know that those who march away,
Leave dear ones that will yearn;
For that great day when war shall cease,
And their brave boys return.

But many hearts will ache tonight,
As those have ached before,
We know that some of them must fall,
Yes, fall to rise no more.

Their lives were precious to their friends,
As yours and mine today.
They gave their all to this great call
And now they've passed away.

Some do not seem to realize
They go for love of right.
A blessed sacrifice they made,
When they went forth to fight.

I heard a slacker say one day,
"I'm not afraid to die,
But I'd rather be a coward on earth,
Than a hero in the sky."

I pointed to our glorious flag,
With all its colors bright,
I asked him what that red was for,
The blue and spotless white.

He said, "It's just a piece of cloth,
They honor needlessly,
And urge us fight to keep the world
Safe for democracy."

I said in nearly every home
You find a U. S. flag,
And you, base slacker, dare not call
It no more than a rag.

Oh, may such ones as he be few,
We need courageous men;
Our hope is in their arm of might,
To build this world again.

Our boys must stand by Uncle Sam,
And let the flag fall never,
May freedom reign o'er all the earth,
Forever and forever.

EXPERIENCES OF OUR OFFICERS AS BRIDGE BUILDERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

With the American Army on the Vesle, Tuesday, Aug. 6.—The Germans appear to be determined not to permit American engineers to throw bridges across the Vesle and as a result several American officers have had thrilling experiences. The bridge-builders had been eager to proceed with their work despite the German fire and their officers have had to hold them back.

Lieutenant E. F. Mail of California, on Tuesday was under cover with 60 men on the south bank awaiting a lull in the German shelling in order to build a bridge. It was intended to build a foot-bridge on the foundations of a bridge destroyed by the Germans and then to put up a larger structure. Rather than expose his men, Lieutenant Mail, carrying two planks, started out on an exploratory trip by himself.

The lieutenant reached the southern pier just as the German machine gunners commenced a heavy fire. This did not stop him. He tossed one plank into a temporary position and then put the other one in place from the south pier to the pier in the middle of the river. The enemy fire becoming warmer, Lieutenant Mail jumped into the river and took cover on the north bank.
Afterwards he recrossed to the south bank and rejoined his command amid cheers from the soldiers.

At another point farther west of Fismes, Major Francis R. Newcomber and Captain James P. Growden, during daylight, felled a tree across the Vesle and crossed to the north bank. They chopped down another tree which fell toward the southern bank. Soon after they had completed a foot-bridge with the tree-trunks as stringers. Newcomber and Growden had gone ahead of the bridge-building gang to the position and when the gang arrived they found the work well started. The enemy discovered the foot-bridge soon afterward and since has subjected it to a lively fire.

RUMOR GERMAN
SAILORS REVOLT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Aug. 7.—Rumors of a revolt by German sailors at Wilhelmshaven in protest against a continuation of the submarine war are in circulation, according to a dispatch to the Express from Amsterdam. It is reported that propagandists among the men incited sailors about to leave on submarine cruisers to attack the officers and sailors and surrender their ships or seek an opportunity to sink them and get themselves interned in neutral harbors. More than 50 submarines are said to have disappeared.

Twenty-three of the ring-leaders of the revolt were reported to have been arrested and sentenced to death.
Many others have been arrested at the correspondent who sends the reports admits that the stories are conflicting and the facts difficult to ascertain.

The men behind the movement, the accute state, are revolutionary sailors who for some time past have been conducting propaganda with the object of stopping the submarine war because of the increased dangers.
The recent resignation of Admiral von Holtzendorff as chief of the naval staff is declared to have been connected with the scandal. Emperor William, it is added, has abandoned an intended visit to the fleet at Wilhelmshaven this week because of the ferment there.

Don't Let Soap
Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mu-lassar coconut oil for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Peculiar Experience
On Auto Trip
In Estes Park

A popular school teacher who recently returned from a trip to the mountains of Colorado, tells of her experience on a 150 mile trip in an auto in Estes Park. Says she was wearing a rather thin waist and did not think she would need any protection except to the exposed part of arm, neck and face, which she had covered rather thickly with Velvetina vanishing cream and face powder.
But on returning, found she was sunburned almost to a blister on shoulders, neck and arms under her waist without even a trace of sunburn on face, neck and arms which were exposed. She says these articles are better protection than a veil, you can get them from your druggist and be sure to ask for the new Velvetina book,

MEN AND WOMEN WHO WIN IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE.
Practical Advice On What To Do To Build Up Your Strength, Power And

Actual blood tests show that a tremendously large number of people who are weak and ill lack iron in their blood and that they are ill for no other reason than a lack of iron.
says Dr. James
Francis Sullivan,

"It is through iron in the red coloring matter of the blood that life-sustaining oxygen enters the body, and enables the blood to charge food into living tissue, muscle and brain. Lack of sufficient iron in the blood has ruined many a man's nerves and utterly robbed him of that virile force and stamina which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life."

"Therefore I strongly advise those who feel the need of a strength and

FRANK L. JOHNSON SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE WRITES TO ADVOCATE

A few days ago the Advocate received a special New York dispatch announcing the receipt of a cablegram from France telling of the heroic work of Frank L. Johnson in carrying wounded from the battlefield in France. The Advocate is just in receipt of the following interesting letter from Mr. Johnson. The letter was written "Somewhere in France" July 12th.

Editor of the Advocate: Glad to get your letter of June 5th which reached me on July 10th. Since I find it so difficult at all times to get letters out from where I now work, it behooves me to answer at once.

Wish you could see me just now as I write. I am seated under a little shelter, made of bundles of small sticks about 3 feet long. They are set up one end with tops together making something like what the boys call a pup tent. It is raining out so my paper is damp from the fine rain that sprinkles through. Here is where I shall sleep tonight. Of course I shall not be alone or lonesome as I have plenty of Americans near me. In case they put me in the eligible list for military service I shall be well hardened to the vigorous life of a soldier. I have slept on the ground much of the time for the past week. Night before last I slept under Eppie Frenier's pup tent with him. He is with Engineers, located just across from me.

Have not seen many of the Newark boys yet. I understand that there are on the way. I just missed Harold Rickert, son of A. H. Rickert, by one day. The boys who know him well told me that he had gone to another point. He is a first class Sergeant in the Engineers. He is in the division which has recently made a great name for itself on the western front.

When I wrote you last, I was in a training camp where I saw our boys learning how to shoot the big gun. Was here from Dec. 27 to April 27. Was in charge of the work in a big double hut. On the 27th of April I was asked to come to the front. Have done much dodging of German shells and have picked up aero-bomb splinters that have fallen near me. Hope to be able to help the boys keep up a spirit which will keep the Hun from ever getting near Paris again. There are no boys in the world like ours. They are brave and resourceful. The German has no game that we can't learn to play as well if not better than he can play it. I am working with a regiment that has made a great name for itself since it came over here. I have entrained with them and have marched with them and slept with them in dug-outs. I love them and am anxious to do whatever I can to help them. Since I started to write three have stuck their heads into my "wig-wag" for writing paper and to ask for something which I promise, to get for them early in the morning.

You know something of what little Sam is doing over here. It is wonderful. Germany will surely have occasion to change her mind as to the part America will play in the war.

You spoke about Ray Evans. He was working with me in the Training Camp. Think he is there yet. Have not heard from him for some time. He wanted to get to the front as soon as possible. I should like to trade places with him for a little while. Have been on the job steadily since Dec. 27th. I want to send you a copy of the Stars and Stripes paper which gives the A. E. F. news. Shall send it at once. Watch for it. Shall write for a 3 months subscription to be sent to you. Wish I could see the Advocate, but it would not be advisable to send it to me. My whereabouts are so uncertain. Mrs. Johnson sends me clippings of interest. Thank you very much for your good new letter. You are at liberty to use any of this you wish in any way you wish. As ever, Newark and L. Co. did great things.

CAMP SHERMAN NOTES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 7.—New standards for physical examination before local draft boards will soon be set and when the August quotas begin to arrive in Camp Sherman the percentage of unfitness who have to be weeded out is expected to be considerably lessened.

In the past, although the military authorities have made every exertion to bring semi-fit men up to the standard through development of physical exercise and games, there has been some wastage of effective man-power here as in other camps. The new physical standards are expected, however, to do more than eliminate men who could never qualify for a soldier's duties. Hundreds of draftees, it is estimated, have been placed in deferred classes for physical illness and oddities which need not have prevented their service. The new regulations will contain minute instructions, concerning every part of the anatomy which are expected to make much clearer to local draft boards what is fit army material and what is not. The standards have been submitted to Washington and will probably be disseminated this week, medical officers say.

GRANVILLE

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Aug. 7.—The Baptist Assembly will present several excellent numbers. At 8:15 p. m. was given the Bible lecture "Judah and Christ," by Dr. Robertson of Louisville, Ky. Also at 8:15 and 9:15 p. m. two concerts by the Zedekel Symphony Quintet.

The A. E. F. W. rooms were opened all day and in spite of the intense heat a number of women were present and quite a bit of work was accomplished. There was no business meeting, and no reports made.

The meeting of the King's Daughters was postponed for one week, Monday night.

The Vacation Bible school for young people, which was held at six weeks session in Dean gymnasium, came to a close today. The superintendent, teachers and scholars have all enjoyed a delightful season of study, work and play, which ultimately is going to tell in the morale of our young citizens.

Mr. Lee Schuchman, of Denison University, has been a most enthusiastic superintendent of this school. The boys have found him a fine instructor and good comrade. Wednesday the whole school will enjoy a picnic on College hill. The arm, out over the top with its wings, is its credit, which was a result of a contest between the Army and Navy, the whole school being divided into two parts.

Thursday will occur the commencement and appropriate exercises will be given on Steadman campus. A display of all work done in the various classes in the school will be arranged in the gymnasium and a cordial invitation is extended to all. Everybody come and see what the young people have been doing at the Vacation Bible school.

On Monday and Tuesday, 86 new registrants, boys of the class of 1918, were given post-examination.

Mrs. Elizabeth, mother of her sister, Mrs. Carrie Thuston of West College street, died at 10 o'clock this morning from the home of Mrs. Thornton at Millard Brelsford conducted the services. Mrs. Frenier has been a resident of Granville for many years and besides her immediate family leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss.

Frederick E. Wood, 12 of Madison, Wis., general secretary of University of Wisconsin Y. M. C. A. and Rev. and Mrs. Jesse B. Wood, Monroeville, O., motored to Granville and will spend several days attending the assembly. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brelsford of St. Paris are visiting their son, Rev. Millard Brelsford, a family on West Broadway.

JOHN NEWLON OF MANSFIELD PAYS A WARM TRIBUTE

Tells His Druggist How Quickly Nerv-Worth Bettered Health of Self and Wife.

The improvement was so marked that Nerv-Worth is now a staple in the Newlon medicine chest. But let Mr. Newlon tell the story:

Tawse Pharmacy.—My wife was under a severe nervous strain for over five years and, as a result, had become extremely nervous. She took a good many different remedies with very little success until recently we both started to take Nerv-Worth, myself occasionally having dizzy spells, resulting from a sunstroke. We both took one bottle (of Nerv-Worth) and were greatly benefited and can recommend it most highly to any one. We keep a bottle at all times.

Yours truly,
JOHN NEWLON,
Mansfield, O.
